1. Attached for your information and for passing to UPHILL at your discretion are statements taken from ☐ ☐ reports on the organization referred to briefly in para. 1 of EGMW-10316. The material has been translated and reorganized slightly but is basically in the form in which it was received. When you pass it to UPHILL please emphasize the fact that we have not yet had time, because of other procedures and priorities, to reinterrogate ☐ ☐ on this Subject. As soon as feasible, efforts will be made to find out who ☐ ☐ sources were, in what context discussions took place, etc., hopefully with results which will make the material more meaningful and permit proper evaluation.

2. As you can imagine, we were rather astounded at the coincidence of the appearance from UPHILL of the material in MMI 4776 concerning SECURITY activities very similar to those described in attachment. We consider it fortunate that UPHILL produced their information first, as they are not in a position to view attachment quite as skeptically as they otherwise might have liked to appear. Aside from the value of our making a maximum of ☐ ☐ material available to UPHILL, we feel that the attachment is a significant document for KUBARK to have passed in the context of the recent UPHILL Eichmann study handwritten to Robert A. Lechen. On the one hand, attachment confirms significantly the UPHILL thesis that the Soviets are taking intensive action in this connection against the Federal Republic, and also gives some support to UPHILL's longstanding claims concerning penetration of the RIV. On the other hand, the document having thus established to a degree its own credibility in UPHILL eyes, then proceeds to make the point that there may well be dangerous Nazi elements still underground whose threat is perhaps intensified by Soviet control, -- a thesis we should otherwise be in a poor position to propose to UPHILL. Finally, the implication of possible UPHILL penetration will very likely exert a sobering effect which in itself is not without psychological value.

EIS-Reorganized Secret Nazi Cadre Organization

A Nazi cadre organization which is clandestinely organized and directed by EIS postwar agents has been active for years. This organization has various bases in the German Federal Republic and also secretly controls the activities of various legal radical political organizations in the Federal Republic, such as the Deutsche Volkspartei. Following are some places which I have been able to learn over a long period.

Historical Information:

At the end of 1945, in view of the approaching defeat of the Third Reich, the NSDAP head, Hermann Goebbels, began to build up a secret Nazi cadre organization known as EIS and other Nazi leaders. This organization (hereafter referred to as EIS) was set up according to the organizational plan of a Free German League in that there were secret "secret circles," highest of which was formed by EIS and from other unidentified Nazi leaders. The organization was further set up according to the "V" pattern (5 persons): members of one "V" became leaders of further "V"s, and the leadership was anonymous to the lower circles. The secret names EIS spread the story in the lower "V"s that EIS was behind the organization, and succeeded in this because "Willing, the Father of the German Youth," was on his side because he could foresee the coming defeat. The first reports on EIS were received from EIS, who at the beginning of 1946 or even earlier had been apparently furnished by the chief sabotage officer in Berlin, which was directed by EIS. (This was, an important one for the service, was personally by EIS, who was also after the death of EIS, only a few people in the EIS and EIS/CI knew about this mysterious matter.)

According to EIS's plan, the organization was supposed to be numerically limited (allegedly there were only 35 members as of 1946), was to be organized according to the existing situation and above all was to influence affairs entirely clandestinely. For security reasons bases were established abroad to permit freedom and security of operation after the defeat of Germany. The main bases were set up by the end of 1946, especially in Spain, Portugal, Argentina, Japan and Italy and an enormous organizational capital in gold, jewelry and cash, all from concentration camp booty, was collected (approximate value half a million dollars).

Only a few members of the NSDAP and EIS knew about this organization because of the deep conflict between EIS and EIS. As soon as it got wind of the existence, however, the EIS immediately recognized the importance and did everything possible to obtain control and direct the organization toward long range goals.

The opportunity offered for exploitation of the group for IIA purposes was self evident. Without waiting for the end of the war ABANDON provided a few members of the organization, by blackmail as well as by threats of denunciation to EITZMAN and KIMBLE. ABANDON at that time was not getting pertinent information on IACIZ from George Chief EITZMAN, who was exploited but not completely trusted by ABANDON. After the war the IIA did what it could to learn everything possible and according to available information succeeded in its efforts. The IIA concludes this effort as highly, in fact, that information which is learned through penetration of this organization is not exploited in ordinary CI operations.

Postwar period:

After the war the IIA concentrated on maximum investigation of IACIZ and maximum infiltration of IIA agents into its membership. The organization expanded around 1947-48 and this opportunity was exploited. Also, IACIZ seemed even more important to the IIA because it kept alive the old Nazi slogan, "Fights the Jews and plebeians in the UK," and had as a goal the founding of a Fourth Reich. It thus was always hostile to America and had remained so.

In 1950 in Dallas the former Gauleiter ROSENBERG was sentenced to death as a war criminal. The sentence was not carried out, however, by 1952. According to KIMBLE's reports, ROSENBERG was a member of IACIZ. Representatives of the IIA as well as representatives of the former IIP interrupted ROSENBERG occasionally after his death sentence (before all the previous chief of the Investigating Department, Dallas Office) in order to question him of pertinent information about IACIZ among other things. ROSENBERG did not withstand the pressure of treatment, which lasted almost two years, and told everything he knew. Immediately after he began to talk, around the middle of 1954, he was taken out of the Dallas prison by special representatives of the IIA and was taken to Moscow on a special plane. Since that time all traces of ROSENBERG have vanished and it is not clear whether he still lives today or was executed or "dumped" from the USSR as a IIA agent in order to play his role in IACIZ.

At the time of the trial of the former Gauleiter ROSENBERG in Wernau, General KIMBLE learned that IACIZ had been kept in the "dark" in order to question information about IACIZ and of him, too, but this did not fully succeed as they tried to get presents on him by means of the trial. It allegedly turned out that IACIZ actually knew something about IACIZ but he himself was not a member.

In about 1947 the former Department I (now Department 12) and the Department VII (now Department 3) succeeded in West Germany the veteran Abwehr and George Chief ABANDON, alias LAMONT, LAMONT had been spotted by Major LAMONT, chief of the main IIAO office in Berlin, who had been fooled by the IIA around 1943 and who formerly had been a close collaborator of LAMONT. GLAMER was run with great success for a long time by the retired Major KOSZULSKI (or KOSZULSKI), now assigned to the Polish Mission in Bern. However, in 1946 KOSZULSKI GLAMER built up such a good position in West Germany, because of his earlier Gestapo activity, that he was considered for the leading position in the RT, which was being organized at that time. This was contrary to the plans of ALAMEN, who had already prepared and pushed forward his own agent (who belonged to KACZ) for this post. The latter, whose name is unknown to me, is supposed to have had even greater merits, to have been more intelligent than KOSZULSKI and, in ALAMEN's opinion, to have been more secure than KOSZULSKI. An argument broke out between the KMM and the RT. At that time the KMM was stronger and because of pressure by NKIA and General BERNARDOWSKI, KOSZULSKI was arrested around 1951 or 1952 at a meeting with KOSZULSKI in Berlin, was transferred to Warsaw and locked in prison there as a war criminal. He allegedly was in prison for about 5 years without trial, was released around 1956 or 1957 and repatriated to West Germany. In this way, the agent of ALAMEN had a free path, without competition from other agents, although it turned out later that ALAMEN's plan went awry and the agent who had been planned for the top job in the RT did not get the job. Before KOSZULSKI's release the Russians tried to re-assign him for further activity in the Federal Republic but he looked at them. Thereafter the Polish (Department II) negotiated with him and after a great deal of discussion KOSZULSKI agreed to continue working for Poland but in no case for the Soviets. Then, KOSZULSKI is still a CI agent of Department II but in reality is directed by the Chief Directorate II of the KMM.

After KOSZULSKI, who is a most experienced CI officer, has become disillusioned and has proved by his activity that he is sincere, the KMM plans to steer him towards KACZ and to exploit him there. This is a hypothetical plan which is supposed to take place after a long time. In my opinion, it would not be difficult to work on KOSZULSKI and to influence him. He undoubtedly has a complex because he knows that he was kept in prison for years on Soviet orders. Please note that he may have reported fragmentarily after his return to West Germany, on instruction of Department II for the purpose of establishing his "own place."

After the scandal with KOSZULSKI, KOSZULSKI tendered his resignation, was released from Department VII and entered the Majumelic Service. He apparently is not active now as an intelligence officer. However, he was very important agent.

One of the dark and dangerous KMM figures is KACZ is the famous SS Colonel KACZ who was alive in Madrid and also works for the Spanish IS. KACZ was under active development by ALAMEN as early as 1948. He allegedly was doublet by ALAMEN during the war. There was a period, however, when he was suspected by the RT of playing a double game. In the opinion of a former high CI chief in Poland who used to work very closely with KOSZULSKI, KACZ was finally recruited as a collaborator of ALAMEN in the middle of 1944 and, shortly before the end of the war through clever maneuvers which exploited the stupidity of the NKIA chief KALININSKI, was appointed chief for a short period of East military intelligence. Through these maneuvers, ALAMEN planned above all to catch in time and exploit for himself East German agents in the United States and South America.

One of the most dangerous methods of ALAMON was the IS wet "under a reign flag" which has been brought to the point of perfection today by the h. To what extent ALAMON succeeded in this plan is not clear but it is plain that in 1955-56 the KGB had a few excellent agents in the United States and had come from the repertoire of the Art CAMERON. Naturally MURPHY has numerous connections to "old hand fighters" and if my facts are true, he is extremely dangerous. I could only discover two clues which serve as slight confirmation of the assertion that MURPHY is a KGB agent, as follows:

- 1) One of the clandestine contacts of MURPHY in the Federal Republic is a certain KRAL, who lived until 1956 in Frankfurt/Main. KRAL is Lithuanian by name from Latvia. He is a principal agent of Chief Mikoyan II of the KGB. He formerly (until 1954) had contact with an SIS officer, R.A. MARY, had dealings, Odenbergstrasse 1. MARY allegedly ran an SIS section working against the Soviet Baltic countries. A co-worker of KRAL and at the same time a KGB agent is a certain Colonel JARVIS (or something similar), who is Lithuanian. A close contact existed and allegedly exists today between MURPHY and KRAL.
- 2) Karl KRAL, about 30 years old, works for MURPHY for the Spanish IS in the Federal Republic. He is a personal friend of MURPHY who took part with MURPHY in the liberation of KRONSTADT. KRAL worked for a long time for the French, but even before the French got to him, the KGB recruited him. In 1951 ALAMON learned through KRAL of a Valious plan to free the Hungarian Cardinal MURPHY from prison and smuggle him to the West. Colonel MURPHY and KRAL were supposed to take part in this plan. ALAMON, however, planned to liberate MURPHY through MURPHY and KRAL, to shoot him "during flight," as proof of the connection of the Cardinal and Valious with old fascists to shoot KRAL, too, and to allow MURPHY, whom he valued, to "escape." However KRAL, seeing the plot as a contact with ALAMON's special representative. Because of fear of ALAMON he did not warn MURPHY but he withdrew from the planned action. After that time the cooperation of KRAL with the KGB weakened and later the contact is supposed to have been broken off for a long time. It is not known whether contact exists at present. It is certain that MURPHY is active in KRONSTADT. Whether today he is currently working for the KGB is possible but not certain but it would appear to be worthwhile to take a look at such as he.

It is generally known that the EIAS officials have taken up a pre-government line and even negotiated with various political parties like the BPP and the IFP. Inside the political tentacles of EIAS in this respect - the subordination of EIAS into the political life of the Federal Republic - are controlled by the KGS and clandestinely manipulated to KGS ends. The KGS is working toward the goal of utilizing such opportunities for agent activity to bring about the destruction of the Federal Republic.
